About the Stockton Metropolitan Airport

The Stockton Metropolitan Airport serves the current and future commercial, corporate business, and general aviation needs of San Joaquin County. As they say, location is everything! We are conveniently located between two major north-south freeways – U.S. Interstate 5 and CA State Highway 99, only five miles from Altamont Corridor Express Train station with service to Silicon Valley and the Bay Area, and just a short drive to Sacramento, San Francisco, San Jose, Oakland, and Napa/Lodi wine country!

The mission of the Airport is to consider the safety and security of our staff, passengers, tenants and stakeholders to be our first priority. We strive to be efficient in our operations, innovation in our approach to problem solving, and act responsibly towards our community and our environment. Conduct business to the highest professional and ethical standard. Strive to be a catalyst for economic growth and regional prosperity.

Studies indicate that every day over 2,500 passengers originate or conclude an airline trip from a domicile located within 35 miles of Stockton. The airport currently serves only 5% of that demand. Demographic data indicates a significant population shift east towards San Joaquin County from the Bay Area. Updating air traffic control, hangar, fueling, and airline terminal facilities are parts of a County strategy to serve the growing demand for aviation services
